

CAMPUS CONFIDENTIAL

HEALTHY INFLUENCE

President and CEO of Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center James Weinstein, DMS'95, made Modern Healthcare's 2013 list of the 100 most influential people in healthcare.

THE STUFF OF DREAMS

The bells of Baker-Berry rang 50 times at 2:45 p.m. on August 28 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the March on Washington.

MORE DELTA BLUES

Alpha Delta fraternity and Delta Delta Delta sorority made national headlines by hosting a Bloods and Crips-themed party in late July.

THE WHEEL TRUTH

Psi Upsilon won the chariot race during Fieldstock weekend in early August. Chi Heorot fielded the only other chariot to compete, but its wheels fell off.

EATING UP DOLLARS

Returning students were met with a 4-percent increase in meal plan prices.

PAINTED LADIES

"Sorority Paint Wars" featured nine female students throwing paint on each other for an hour at the BEMA on August 17.

TALK OF THE TRAIL

"There's some weirdos, there's some nerds, everybody's different. You've got a little bit of everybody." That's how an Appalachian Trail through-hiker described his fellow hikers during a summer stop at the Outing Club.

ALL WORK, NO PLAY

Freshmen on the football and women's soccer teams did not participate in first-year trips because of their practice schedules.