

Shore Thing

Dewitt Jones '65 and best friend Mele hit the surf on Papohaku Beach near his home in Molokai, Hawaii. "I do a great deal of wave photography on this beach," says the professional shutterbug, director and author, who traveled from his personal paradise to attend his 50th reunion this summer. In Hanover his work was on display at the Hood Museum along with that of fellow classmate photographers Chris Knight, Dick Durrance, Joel Sternfeld and Heinz Kluetmeier.

To view wave images by Jones, go to dartmouth.alumnimagazine.com.