

THE CUTTING EDGE

Woodsmen's Weekend, started by the Outing Club in 1947 and hosted by the College every three years, attracts gung-ho competitors—and lots of power tools. Fifteen schools fielded teams, including a Dartmouth alumni squad, during the April event.

Reminder that there is a wonderful commemorative outhouse poster.

Too burly.

DRIVE HARDER!

Add 10 seconds if their foot is over the line, 15 seconds if they pick up the log while it's still moving.

You just have to make some friends in the area who have chainsaws.

When's the ax throwing?

The best sawyers come out of the West Coast.

What's the strategy here?

The head judge travels to these things nationally.

Fun job!

Later on we'll have both the CHOPPING and SPLITTING events at the center of the Green. Stay tuned.

DARTMOUTH
TEAM

I think I'm competing in the BUZZ SAW, too.

This is a lot of commotion!

Did I hear there's a fire-building competition?

The COOKIE STACK and the CHAIN THROW are on the north side of the Green.

We ask that you saw on the outside ends so that the audience can see you sawing.

My arms hurt.

That log is good!
That log is fine!

Together, together, together...
easy, easy.

Keep rolling,
keep rolling!

It's the number of seconds you stay up, not the number of log rolls, so you got two!

She's totally outta gas.

Come on Lauren!

HIT IT LIKE A MIDTERM!

DUNK!

KLUNK!

MAKE THAT WOOD SMALLER!

You're doing good!

...it takes the fun out of it, but it also takes a lot of risk out of it.

Like, what if you chop into your toes?

This is ridiculous!

Three more big hits!

CHOP!
